SUMMARY

Introduction

It is necessary for any person or institution to be aware of new developments or news that arise on issues that affect us directly. For this reason, this press dossier has been compiled so that the entire Adorers family can be "up to date".

In order to achieve this objective, we will gather news on a bi-weekly basis, based on three fundamental axes:

The presence of our Congregation in the media.

News about the different projects of the Adorer Family.

News about Human Trafficking and Sexual Exploitation.

The aim of these materials is to make the Adorer Family aware of the social work carried out by our Congregation as well as the dramatic situation against which, fundamentally, we put all our effort and commitment.

Abstract: Yesterday, #dayeuropeucontratraficdepersones met with Degana, María Eugenia Gay and MP del Carmen Valenzuela. We shared possible strategies for working together so that they can return to their positions and become key actors in the detection, care, and accompaniment of victims of human trafficking. From SICAR cat we have been pointing out the importance of the role of the lawyers in charge in possible cases of trafficking. Both parties have a firm commitment to Agenda 20 30, milestone 8.7: take immediate and effective measures to eradicate forced labour, end contemporary forms of slavery and human trafficking and ensure the prohibition and elimination of the worst forms of child labour.

Abstract: Since last Friday, we have a new alliance: we have signed a collaboration agreement with the Ödos Programme. Ödos responds to those sub-Saharan women who reach Spanish coasts, Ceuta or Melilla by illegal routes, with young children or pregnant women. Most of them have been victims of gender-based violence at origin and/or in transit and some also show signs of trafficking. As a specialized entity, we are committed, among other things, to offer a safe alternative life to these women with signs of trafficking and to the minors who accompany them. Abstract: Life is a constant change and here lies the ability to adapt or not. Last Wednesday, our whole team was called together to have the first general meeting of the six-month period, so we got beautiful and ready for the photo! It was an opportunity to generate a space of re-encounter that, while maintaining the relevant sanitary measures, is already placing us in a new stage in many ways. We were able to share the progress that has been made in updating the intervention with the new EFQM model, as well as to view the changes that are taking place in the team and that we will communicate in due course. Little by little the team is regaining the normal pulse of our way of doing things, strongly committed to each other, learning from all that we have experienced, grateful, together and looking forward to facing this new time.

Abstract: Yesterday, within the framework of the TambienEsTrata project, we held a training and exchange meeting with the Confederal Group of Human Mobility of Caritas Española. It was wonderful to be able to find spaces in which to weave complicity in the field of trafficking and human mobility. Workers from the teams of Tenerife, Salamanca, Mallorca, Castellón, Vizcaya and Zaragoza participated. Thank you very much for your time and commitment. We want to go beyond our closest contacts in the field of trafficking to build alliances, to build bridges with key actors who are not necessarily traditional (or who have an exclusive focus) in the field of trafficking, but who do have a fundamental role in accessing groups among which potential victims of trafficking can be found, to improve their detection and protection. We continue to build synergies with Cáritas Española in the fight against trafficking.

Abstract: Today our colleague Carmen Bruñó has accompanied Wanawake Mujer in the presentation of the Women's Race that will be held this Sunday in Madrid and that joins so many solidarities causes in the #marearosa.

We are delighted to be able to enjoy one more year of the fruits of masqueunamuñeca. MasQueUnaMuñeca is a social merchandising product of the Carrera de la Mujer, an opportunity to access the labour market for many women survivors of trafficking for the purpose of exploitation and gender violence. Thanks to it, these women can become citizens with full rights through a dignified job.

Abstract: Today is Friday and after this week of commemoration of the European #counter-trafficking day, we want to THANK so many people and institutions with whom we have shared these 22 years. We have come up and recorded the first REEL. Sorry if it is not of sufficient quality, but we want to innovate to reach more people. In this REEL, we look back to boost more hope. We share some of the most significant moments of our journey over the last 20 years, which have marked progress and have meant progress in the fight against trafficking. We have made this journey together with other organizations, institutions, and individuals, whom we thank for their commitment. We believe in the importance and the need to analyze our steps from time to time to identify and draw conclusions about our learning, progress, and challenges, and thus to see the road we have travelled with perspective in order to outline the horizon for the coming years in the fight against human trafficking.

Abstract: We kicked off the week with the training given last Saturday in coalition with @portimujer.ongd and @redlatinasylcaribe. Iskra Orillo, head of the Health area of Proyecto Esperanza closed the Course for Community Promoters for Equality and Prevention of Violence in the Valencian Community, organized by @portimujer.ongd. The aim of the course is to provide the participating women with tools that enable them to detect gender-based violence, as well as to offer support, information and accompaniment to those women who suffer it, in order to be at their side and facilitate their process of autonomy. In her closing presentation, Iskra spoke about trafficking in women for sexual and other exploitative purposes (including trafficking for labour exploitation, forced marriages and criminal activities), and its impact on the comprehensive health of victims and survivors, as well as their right to comprehensive care for their recovery. Thanks to @portimujer.ongd for inviting us to your space. Working in alliance with organizations like yours, which is part of the @redlatinasylcaribe , is fundamental to continue advancing in our common goal of ensuring access to rights for people who are victims of trafficking for any purpose of exploitation.

Abstract: Maintaining close contact with the State Security Forces is a task that we have maintained active since 1999, both in intervention and assistance to victims and in specialized training. This is what we did yesterday with the participation of our Awareness Coordinator, Marta González, in the XXXI Course for Promotion to the rank of Commissioner of the National Police in the afternoon, in the Round Table "Assistance to Victims of Illegal Immigration Networks". We had the opportunity to present our residential resource and services including the detection and identification department. We recalled the obligations that the State has towards victims, as well as their rights and we were able to emphasize the importance of having an intersectional, human rights and gender perspective that can guarantee effective protection. We also expressed our concern about the impact of COVID 19 on victims in situations of exploitation, as there is an increase in vulnerability and lack of protection.

Abstract: Last week AmecoPress published an article on #EuropeanDayAgainstTrafficking and we think it is important to recommend you read it as many of the aspects that we are working on as a network are reflected in the article. Thank you for your committed and quality social journalism as you are a very important and key agent to make human trafficking visible. It is important to work so that victims do not run the risk of being manipulated. Our awareness-raising coordinator Marta González points out that: Regarding the identification process, the most important thing is to "attend to the needs, well-being and rights of the victims". In addition, it is important to avoid "that they are not re-victimized by the way they are treated, by not identifying them properly, by instrumentalizing them, by not respecting their rights or their needs". You can read the article in the link.

La falta de un enfoque de derechos humanos hace que España no cumpla los tratados firmados

España, Verónica Barroso.

Además, al aplicar un enfoque policial hace que las víctimas corran el peligro de ser instrumentalizadas. Por ello, es fundamental la intervención de "un mecanismo multiagencial con formación de trata, derechos humanos y género" capacitado para apoyarlas en todo el proceso y "ayudarlas a salir de este círculo de explotación y trata", según la portavoz sobre trata y Responsable de Relaciones Institucionales de Política Interior en Amnistía Internacional

Aquí juega un papel muy importante el Proyecto Esperanza que el año pasado participó en la evaluación en relación a la correcta aplicación de la Directiva Europea para valorar si se cumple eficazmente, y analizar "dónde están las lagunas y las dificultades e intentar que la protección a las víctimas mejore", explica María González.

Abstract: It is good to be grateful. And for this reason, although a week has passed, we would like to thank Caritas Española once again for the trust placed in us to continue working in alliance. Last Friday we met in a training meeting with the Confederal Group of People Deprived of Liberty of Cáritas Española. It was attended by staff from the teams in Tortosa, León, Valladolid, Segorbe/Castellón and Madrid. This meeting helped us to share our experiences and analysis of trafficking for lesser-known purposes of exploitation, especially for exploitation in the commission of criminal activities, which #TambienEsTrata.
